BIG PLANT GETS MORE PROPERTY

Brown-Hoist Co. Pays $10,500 For Ten-Acre Jehle Tract — Erection of Four Large Buildings Believed Contemplated

The purchase of ten acres of ground for factory purposes by the Brown Hoist Co. of Cleveland, indicates that this big corporation has not given up its plan of some six months ago, of securing a site in this city.

The property purchased belonged to John and Mary Jehle, Huron street, and skirts the tracks of the New York Central railway living east of the Jehle homestead. The deed to the property was delivered to the Brown Hoist Co. yesterday afternoon and at once filed for transfer at the county recorder's office at $10,500.

Plan Expansion.

In a telephone interview with R. P. Pratt, manager of the Elyria foundry, and plant engineer, this afternoon, he made the following statement in answer to an inquiry as to the future plans of the company.

"Our local plant in Cleveland has reached its maximum capacity leaving us no room to expand. Naturally, owning the plant of the Elyria Foundry Co., as we do, we wished to get a location as near to it as possible. We have been looking over land in that vicinity for some time, and finally decided that the Jehle property was just what we wanted."

Four Buildings.

It will be remembered that last fall a large Cleveland concern was dickering with a real estate firm here for some property on the west side. At that time the name of the company was kept secret, but today it was acknowledged that the Brown Hoist Co. was meant.

Plans for new buildings were prepared by The Hunken-Conkey Co. of Cleveland, and the dimensions of the buildings to be erected were given as 60x300, 60x60, 60x80, 60x40.

News of this purchase it is believed means that within a short time a branch at least of the Cleveland plant will be erected on the property just purchased.

VOTE ON YANK BONUS BILL THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The route of the soldier bonus bill thru the house was cleared of another hurdle today when the house rules committee gave its formal approval to the plan of Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee to bring the measure up tomorrow and to pass it after four hours' debate without amendments. The house will convene at eleven o'clock—one hour earlier than usual—to act upon the bill.

STATE BRIEFS

ZANESVILLE, March 22.—Miss Lenore Arnold, local school teacher, sustained a fractured left leg and severe internal injuries when struck by an automobile here last night.

MANSFIELD, Mar. 22.—James C. Smith, 26, an inmate of the Ohio state reformatory sent up from Hamilton county, was found guilty by a jury of an indictment charging him with assault with intent to kill Charles G. Pitcher, one of the guards of the reformatory. Smith was sentenced to serve from one to fifteen years in the Ohio state penitentiary.

DAYTON, March 22.—Everything is all ready for the opening of the Rotarian convention tomorrow. First arrivals began rolling in today but the big crowds are not expected until tonight. Reception committees began meeting all trains at noon and will keep it up until midnight. It is expected that 1,000 members will be present for the opening session tomorrow.

CUPID AND LAW RUN AFOL; GIRL LAWYER BARRLED

Mrs. Jacob Landau.

Mrs. Jacob Landau is American born and a fully qualified lawyer—but the law says she is not an American and therefore cannot practice in New York. The trouble is that her husband is from Czechoslovakia. A divorce will restore her citizenship—but she doesn't want a divorce.

PLAN MORE PENALTIES FOR HUNS

PARIS, March 22.—The inter-allied reparations commission is threatening further penalties upon Germany, including increased punitive occupation and augmentation of Germany's 1922 indemnity payments to 900,000,000 gold marks. Berlin does not put into effect the allied new reparations demands before May 4, according to the Matin today. These demands are understood to be:

- 1—Limitation of the issuance of paper money;
- 2—Autonomy of the reichsbank;
- 3—Allied control of exportations and customs;
- 4—Issuance of an internal loan and increased taxes.

The allies are expected to send a new control commission into Germany at once to attempt to bring about these reforms.

The meeting of the reparations commission lasted all day Tuesday and most of the night, adjourning early today.

When the meeting broke up it was announced that France had given in on a majority of the questions affecting guarantees.

During the course of the meeting M. Dubois, representing France had demanded rigid allied control, not only of the German budget but the emission of paper money, bourse transactions and the transfer of all foreign shares.

Both the British and Italian members of the commission decried these demands as impossible.

It is learned from high authority that France is entering into diplomatic conversations with the other allies regarding a communication to be made to the U. S. regarding the American demand for approximately $214,000,000 for upkeep of the American army of occupation on the Rhine. France takes the position that it is "not a question of law, but of friendship and equity."

France is anxious for a joint commission to settle all past and future occupational costs.

The foreign office says that no note has been received from Washington.

County Will Buy Two Loadometers

The county commissioners have decided that they will purchase a set of loadometers to help enforce the Burke law against the overloading of trucks in this county.

The new apparatus weigh about forty pounds each and will cost $400. They can be placed in an ordinary automobile and taken out by a deputy sheriff, and when he has reason to suspect that a truck is overloaded or overweight the machines can be placed under the rear or front trucks, jacked up, and the exact weight ascertained.

Similar apparatus are in use in other counties of the state, and the commissioners figure that it will save the cost many times in protecting the roads.

3 ELYRIANS HURT IN CRASH

Eleven persons, three from Elyria, were injured, several seriously when a Detroit avenue street car crashed into the rear end of a Cleveland & Southwestern interurban car at Superior avenue and West Third street, Cleveland, this morning. The slippery condition of the rails was blamed for the crash. Nearly a hundred other passengers on the two cars were badly shaken up, including many from Elyria, who had boarded the car here.

Both cars were crowded to capacity. The accident occurred during the rush hour this morning, and the Detroit avenue car, west-bound, had just left the square at Cleveland. The interurban, bound to Cleveland from Elyria, was turning into West Third street. The motorman on the street car set his brakes, but they failed to hold.

Among those injured are: Carl Beltz, 25, Elyria, cut and bruised; Harry Thompson, Elyria, motorman on interurban, scalp wounds; Albert Beltz, 23, Elyria, hand badly cut.

Jos. Younger, Cleveland, internal injuries.

Mrs. Gertrude Stout, Lakewood, fractured right arm.

HARDING ASKS FOR SMALLER ARMY

WASHINGTON, March 22.—President Harding demanded of congress today that it appropriate enough money to maintain an American navy up to the maximum strength authorized under the conference treaties.

Word went from the White House to the capitol that there must be kept in commission an 18 battleship fleet, with all auxiliaries, and property manned to give the fleet the highest efficiency. This will require an enlisted strength of about 86,000 men and 3,200 officers.

MRS. WORTHINGTON, 70, TO BE BURIED FRIDAY

Mrs. Annie Worthington, 70, died at the home of her sister Mrs. Arthur Chappel, 507 1/2, Cleveland street, yesterday afternoon, after a long illness.

She is survived by her husband, Erwin Worthington, four sisters, Mrs. Albert Knight, Norwalk; Mrs. Byron Tomkins, Eaton; Mrs. Mary Simpson, Kansas, and Mrs. Arthur Chappel, Elyria, and a brother, George Fox, Eaton.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the Chappel home, at 2 o'clock. Friends invited.

SEANCE COSTS GROCER $8,000

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 22.—Like Nigger Jim's hair-ball in Huck Finn, "Professor" O. G. Gilbert, Ashland, Ky., spirit medium, couldn't evoke the spirits without cash.

Therefore when Owen Boster, local grocer sought the medium for information by which he hoped to get "his boy" out of trouble, Gilbert suggested he bring $2,000 along.

Boster was impressed with the medium's powers. He produced the $2,000 which was held over his head in a bag. The spirits refused to talk. The outlay was not sufficient.

Boster then brought in another $2,000's. Late yesterday he was standing under a roll of $3,000 in a little green bag. The bag was charmed.

The seance was successful, the spirits were talkative and the gullible Boster had per instructions left the medium's home to deposit the money in a bank.

When he got there he peeped in the bag and the $8,000 was gone. Boster told the police he had been swindled. Today authorities of the tri-state region are looking for the spiritualist.

Gilbert, it is said, has been doing a raging business for the last few months at Ashland. For one dollar he would tell a woman the whereabouts of her next child. The whereabouts of her husband at night, whether or not her path would be crossed by dark haired men and much other "valuable" information.

HOSTESS' DEATH AT "SUICIDE PARTY" BRINGS SIMILAR FATE TO HER LOVER

Pauline Virginia Clark.

A tiny vial of a deadly poison has obliterated two angles of what is alleged to be Boston's latest love triangle. Pauline Virginia Clark, famed beauty and sculptor's model, ended her life as she had lived—dramatically. She took a potion before guests assembled at a party she had given. Otto Halder Larsen, Boston Tech student and sweetheart of the girl, snatched the vial from her lips—but a second too late. The next day his body was found a few yards from Boston Art Museum. The very vial he had wrenched from the girl, half filled, lay beside him empty. Police are seeking a broker, "somewhere in Boston," who is believed to have been a rival of Larsen's for the favor of the girl.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. WORKERS RENEW EFFORTS TO COMBAT RETURN OF WINE AND BEER

Beginning at nine o'clock yesterday W. C. T. U. members from throughout Lorain county assembled at the Methodist church for the county institute meeting. The morning session was consumed to business and devotions.

At one Mrs. F. E. Sheldon led in a song and praise service which was followed by greetings from Mrs. Nellie M. Hill, the Lorain county president.

Mrs. Hill commended the women present for their interest in the movement as evidenced by their attendance and impressed upon them the necessity of continued effort along the lines of law enforcement, education, and keeping the women of the county alive to the work of the W. C. T. U. and in this connection Mrs. Hill spoke of the various departments of the W. C. T. U. She impressed upon the ladies the need of active work and spoke especially of the present movement to allow light wines and beers to be sold.

Following Mrs. Hill's remarks, Madam Gardner Bartlett sang the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" in a stirring manner.

W. C. T. U. Commended Dr. Edwin Kirby was then called upon by the chairman, Mrs. Hill, and gave a brief address. He spoke of the work the Women's Christian Temperance Union has done in the forty-eight years of its history. He said that it laid the foundation for the movement which has made the United States dry. He spoke also of the necessity of equipping oneself to combat the evil forces which are thoroughly organized by keeping oneself well in formed of the existing conditions.

Dr. Kirby said that most of the law violators are foreigners and they should be made to understand that the laws are to be obeyed and if they do not obey them they should be sent back to the country from which they came.

Following Dr. Kirby's address, Miss Mary Burke read a paper, "Our Unfinished Task."

Mrs. Green Spinks, Mrs. Helen Green, president of the W. C. T. U. of Cuyahoga county, was the next speaker, following a discussion led by Mrs. Jaycox on the campaign against light wines and beers.

Grafton Man Shot In Resisting Arrest

Last Saturday night while L. V. Jones, B. & O. detective was on a train passing through Grafton, he saw a man on the right of way and dropping off the train, went up to question him. The fellow refused to give satisfactory answers, and a scuffle took place during which the man cried to take the detective's revolver away from him. In the scuffle the revolver was discharged, and the man broke away and disappeared. Search for him resulted in the arrest yesterday of Kasmir Maljeski, of Grafton, and he was brought before the Grafton mayor charged with resisting an officer. He was found guilty and was fined $10 and costs. It was also learned that during the scuffle Maljeski had been shot in the shoulder, the bullet ranging down towards his ribs. He had been without medical attention since the occurrence, according to information given by Sheriff Backus.

Maggie Wade Asks Court For Divorce

Maggie Wade of this city filed suit today against Horace Wade, an employee of the Fox Furnace Co., asking a divorce on grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. She charges that he spends his income on dissipation and strong drink, and associates with lewd women. She specifically charges him with adultery in Cleveland and Elyria. Also with frequently assaulting and abusing her. On March 20th he left her and she has secured an injunction to prevent him from drawing his wages. She asks a divorce, custody of their two children and alimony.

Savings Accounts Total $8,158,108.70 and Disclose Thriftiness of Inhabitants

From the recent bank statements published on call of both the national and state governments, it would appear that although the times are pretty tight the public still has considerable money laid away to do business with.

The four Elyria banks show deposits that aggregate over fourteen million dollars. To be exact they total $8,158,108.70. Of this amount, $3,158,108.70 has been placed in savings accounts on interest. The business men, factory men and others have a balance of $4,672,355.67 to their credit with which to transact their business. The balance of the deposits are in the form of demand certificates, postal savings, etc. Bankers state that this is an excellent showing and expect that from this time on the deposits will slowly grow as the times improve.

WEST SIDERS PLAN ACTIVE ORGANIZATION

Judgments from the success that attended its first open meeting on Tuesday night at the Gates auditorium, the West Side Chamber of Industry bids fair to prove itself to be the greatest movement that the western section of the city has ever known.

Last week a number of West Side citizens met and effected a temporary organization with Roy H. Moulton, chairman and O. K. Edgar as secretary and treasurer. Necessary committees being also appointed to frame by-laws and work out other details necessary to give the movement a proper start. Tuesday night's meeting was called for purpose of presenting the general scheme to the citizens of the locality and enlisting their co-operation.

In the absence of Chairman Moulton, the meeting was called to order by Secretary Edgar. William H. Hivert was the first speaker, and he explained how the movement for a chamber of industry came to be initiated.

Mayor Jones, delivered an address which was full of helpful suggestions and was a plan for the people of the West Side to stand by their representatives in their efforts for the welfare of the community. The mayor told his hearers that there was no limit to the possibilities of the new organization for the good of the West Side and of the city at large if the people were represented by a progressive organization which could quickly and effectively express their sentiments on public matters.

Walter H. Watts was the last speaker, who pleaded for an organization that should ignore petty jealousies and stand united for the best interests of all the people and boost for that which is good, first last and always. Speaking as a West Sider to West Siders, he said the great fault of the community in the past has been a lack of constructive criticism and an excess of destructive criticism in public matters.

Following the speeches the meeting was thrown open for suggestions and the discussion of ways and means. The unanimous sentiment expressed was that the movement is a public one, in which the great body of the people should take part, rather than one for business men only, and if present plans are carried out the new organization will include practically all the residents of the West Side.

Benny Schubert and E. C. Greenland entertained the large audience with a few musical selections, which were much appreciated.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, April 6th, at which time the by-laws will be up for discussion and other matters will be presented.

MILLIONAIRE MAY OPPOSE CROW IN PA. SENATE RACE

John A. Bell, Pittsburgh millionaire.

Political sages are looking forward to a bitter fight in the coming senatorial race in Pennsylvania. Senator William E. Crow is expected to run for re-election and it is considered likely that he will be opposed by John A. Bell, Pittsburgh millionaire. Such a fight, politicians say will be a battle royal when Bell's millions are pitted against Crow's powers as a politician. Bell classes as preposterous the rumor that he had been approached with a proposition to pay $650,000 for a senate seat.

NIP IRISH REVOLT COUP

DUBLIN, March 22.—A revolutionary coup to overthrow the government of the Irish free state will be attempted next week, it was declared here this afternoon by Rodrick O'Connor, chief engineer of the Irish republican army.

According to O'Connor the movement against the Dublin government will be made by republicans or adherents of Eamon DeValera. "It is certain that coup d'etat will be launched against the Collins - Griffith government next week," said O'Connor. "Despite the refusal of Arthur Griffith to allow the Irish republican army to hold a convention, it will be held anyhow on Sunday. Eighty percent of the I. R. A. is loyal to the republic. The men will refuse to take orders from Griffith or Richard Mulcahy."

Griffith is president of the Dail Eireann, or Sinn Fein parliament. Mulcahy is minister of defense in the Irish provisional government. Michael Collins is minister of finance, but is really the "strong man" of the government.

Councilman Corcoran, of county Connaught, who had been arrested by members of the Irish republican army, was released today. Corcoran was charged with recruiting police for the Irish free state.

WITHHOLDS ACTION ON STRIKE

Miners Blame Operators if Strike of 600,000 Workmen Inconveniences Public

By JOHN L. LEWIS

President United Mine Workers of America

NEW YORK, March 22.—In calling a suspension of mining operations throughout the bituminous and anthracite mine fields, the United Mine Workers of America have no desire to discommode or inconvenience the public. The coal operators of the country have deliberately maneuvered to force this suspension. They desire to dispose of heavy reserve coal stock at increased prices and are also desirous of forcing an unwarranted reduction of wages upon the mine workers. They further hope to be able to destroy the United Mine Workers of America. In this way they are doomed to failure. The mine workers will fight to protect their organization and to oppose any decrease in wages. If it is to be a fight to a finish the public must blame the coal operators for any inconvenience it may suffer.

Is Not Alarmed

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Shut-down of the coal mines on April 1 by a strike of 600,000 union miners, apparently without little fear today among high officials of the government that the public interest will be endangered or that federal intervention will be necessary.

Attorney General Daugherty said today the strike program had not reached the stage to warrant any statement of what the government may do, if the exercise of its function become necessary.

The attorney general said he believed the government has authority to act to prevent interference in the production of coal.

When and how that power will be exercised, if a strike actually materializes and assumes the proportions of a long drawn-out struggle between the miners and operators, and thus inflicts suffering or hardships upon the people, was left to be conjectured.

Attorney General Daugherty and others of the cabinet are said to

LAFOLLETTE ALSO ATTACKS PACIFIC PACT

WASHINGTON, March 22.—In an impassioned speech opening his first attack of the four powerful treaty, Senator LaFollette, republican of Wisconsin, described it to the senate today as "an unholy combination of powers" formed for the purpose of exploiting prostrate Russia, Germany and China.

"It is true," he said, "that Germany and Russia are now prostrate and China impotent. But that condition will not last long. The day will come when those great countries, with their unnumbered millions will recover their strength and then we to the combination of nations which united to oppress them in the time of their weakness and distress."

NO SHIP SUBSIDY

We used to hear the story that there were liars, and there were—liars, and then there were expert witnesses. In our judgment there is fool legislation, and there is—fool legislation, and then there is a proposition for the United States government to subsidize ships to carry the American flag, or commonly spoken of as a ship subsidy.

Our government has squandered a great deal of money, and when ships are ready to carry freight, and they are owned by people of other governments, particularly when these other governments are deeply in debt to America, and they can haul our freight for us, for the United States to take money from its treasury to develop a group of competing ships is worse than squandering money.

It might be different if we had too much wealth, were out of debt, were able to meet all obligations, taxes were low, and we were anxious to develop a merchant marine for vanity purposes, and in prospect for war. But none of these things are true, and it is a singular fact that some who are most pronounced against adjusted compensation for the soldiers, on the ground that we are in no financial condition to meet them, are working over time with their lungs declaring for American ship subsidy.

Some urge the precedent and plea that we have subsidized the railroads. This, at least, had the defense of preserving our interstate transportation system.

No such condition prevails in the plan of subsidizing a merchant marine.

AN ILLUSTRATION

We would call attention to a news article suggesting how the imports affect one of the big industries of Elyria, namely, our lace factory.

In 1920 there were imported into this country 220,657,981 yards of cotton lace and lace articles. In 1921 this had been increased to 335,000,000. But from 1920 to 1921 the price had been reduced from 5.9c to 2.8c. In other words, to less than half.

Certainly these laces are being imported for less price than the labor alone costs in our city.

Again, cotton stockings increased in importation threefold from 1920 to 1921, and decreased by more than 50 per cent in price.

These articles come in direct competition with plants here in Elyria, and these figures are disclosed by the annual report of the United States Department of Commerce for 1921.

This terrible reduction in price is due very largely to the difference in the rate of exchange.

A PERFECT CONTRAST

Under the Study Window column Saturday evening appeared the following:—

"Who on earth is Jane Adams?" inquired Mrs. Margot Asquith, lately landed from England for her American lecture tour. Where did Miss Adams receive a higher compliment?"

We are repeating this because we have rarely seen so much said in so little compass.

If we were looking for an absolute contrast in lives of value, we do not know of two women who would present those contrasts more completely than Jane Adams and Margot Asquith.

Mr. Grant made that contrast in a sentence. He brought it out as clearly as you could see the contrast with a barrel of flour beside a barrel of tar, and this would hardly be a fair comparison, because tar has some utility. It is good for water proofing and then it will burn.

IT IS GETTING NO BETTER FAST

We are happy that the invasion of the fundamental rights always affects people who are not particularly disturbed over the principles involved, but are very anxious to look after their own personal interest.

We cannot judge of motives, so we may assume that all those who are announcing themselves now so strongly for the primary system and against the abuses of power in politics by the bosses or leaders are perfectly proper ones.

In any case, we believe that some folks have gotten hold of such a hot proposition in the state that they cannot hold on, and they dare not let go.

They are in the position illustrated by the story of the Missourian who explained the meaning of status quo. He said it meant a—of a fix.

I heard a fellow bawling one of the brothers out yesterday. He sure was telling him what he thought. "And from what he said he wasn't a very deep thinker."

Pat Crowe was out to the infirmary Monday night. I didn't think the real estate business was as bad as that.

Yesterday was the first day of spring.—We might just as well have had a little more winter.

Did you read about that Anti-Prohibition Navy? A fellow is going to equip a boat with fancy liquor and anchor it outside the three mile limit. "I'll bet he won't have to pay much for help."

It is a good thing we had this snow, or John Connabre wouldn't have a chance to try out those new snow plows he's trying to have the council buy for him.

A lot of people don't realize that ADVERTISING is the best word of success.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio Each Day

HAVE YOU 15 MINUTES TO SPARE EACH DAY?

CURRENT ELECTRICITY
The flow of electrical current along a wire is very similar to the flow of water in a pipe. We know that the amount of water which flows in a pipe depends upon the pressure under which it flows and upon the resistance offered by the pipe. In like manner, the amount of current flowing in a wire depends upon the pressure under which it flows and the resistance of the wire.

The unit of electrical pressure is known as the volt and corresponds to pounds per square inch in the case of water pressure. The amount of water which flows through a pipe in a second is usually measured in gallons per second and the amount of current which flows through a wire in a second is measured in coulombs per second. A coulomb is a quantity of electricity when one coulomb of electricity flows per second we have a current of one ampere.

Just as the amount of water flows in a pipe depends not only upon the pressure but upon the resistance of the pipe so the amount of current which flows along a wire under a given pressure, depends upon the resistance of the wire. The unit of this electrical resistance is known as the Ohm.

When a wire has a resistance of one Ohm a pressure of one Volt is necessary to force through it a current of one Ampere.

Briefly therefore, we have the following fundamental units in the electrical circuit:

Volt—The unit of Pressure.

Ampere—The unit of Current.

Ohm—The unit of Resistance.

To make water flow toward a certain point it is necessary to raise the level of the water above that point, or in other words, to make a current of electricity flow from one point to another it is necessary to raise the potential of the first point which will cause the current to flow from the point of higher potential to the point of the lower. The pressure which causes the flow we call the difference in potential.

Having explained the units of electricity and their relations to the electrical circuit we arrive at the law which states the relations between these units. This law was first enunciated by Dr. G. S. Ohm.

Ohm's Law states that the current flowing in a circuit is directly proportional to the voltage and inversely proportional to the resistance.

Ohm's Law is expressed by the formula: $E = IR$ where E is the voltage, I is the current, and R is the resistance.

GIRL RELATES VISITS WITH RICKARD

NEW YORK, March 22.—Fifteen-year-old Sarah Schoenfeld, chief witness in the criminal case against "Tex" Rickard, famous night promoter, declared on the witness stand this afternoon that Rickard caused her to make "witness" statements.

Her statement was made while under cross examination by Max J. Steuer, lawyer for the sporting man. She admitted that her alleged meetings with Rickard last week were "horrible experiences and the first thing of the kind that had ever happened to her." Sarah said she was ashamed of herself and never told her mother.

Attorney Steuer asked the girl why she had gone back to Rickard. She replied that she went to get money.

Sarah said she had asked Rickard for tickets to prize fights at Madison Square Garden, but that he had never given her any, giving her money instead.

The girl said her father had been out of work for some time, but denied that her mother had been in the habit of seeking assistance from the United Hebrew charities. She added that her mother gave her 50 or 75 cents two or three times a week to go shopping in the Madison Square Garden pool.

Considerable testimony was brought out dealing with Rickard's efforts to help her mother's financial situation out of prison at Milwaukee where he was serving five years for theft.

Before the direct examination ended, Assistant District Attorney DeLoach asked the girl if she had been married to Rickard.

The witness simply answered: "No."

WELLINGTON TRUSTEES MUST HELP THEMSELVES

The township trustees of Wellington will have to get along without help from the county in their attempt to have certain roads in the township covered with cinders. The trustees and several citizens from the township called on the commissioners regarding the improvement but there was no money to be had except for permanent improvement, as it is a township proposition only. The residents of the township will hold a meeting the latter part of this week or first of next to consider making a special levy for the purpose.

entertain the view that it is not yet too late to avert a strike. The attorney general today was very hopeful that a settlement may be reached.

The cabinet is confident that the public and industry can go through a short strike without inconvenience. It was said that even if the strike goes through on schedule time, the government may delay for a reasonable period resorting to the courts, or other powers that are available, until all possible means have been exhausted to restore peace between the operators and miners.

By April 1, coal experts said nearly 100,000,000 tons of bituminous coal will be available in emergency coal stocks laid by large consumers. These include railroads, public utilities, large industrial consumers.

Reports to the geological survey today indicated that the coal of West Virginia and other states, which are not unionized are preparing to work at top speed to furnish extraordinary demands. These mines already have increased their output in the last month far above normal and still have a vast amount of unfilled orders.

See No Settlement
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 22.—"There is no prospect of settlement" of the miners wage controversy in advance of the nation-wide walk-out of half a million of hard and soft coal workers April 1. This flat statement was made today by William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America after he had read a Washington dispatch saying cabinet officers were hopeful of an agreement before the strike becomes effective.

Although "afraid to venture an opinion" as to the probable duration of the strike, Mr. Green admitted that unless the government intervenes, it likely will last more than two months.

Reject Offer
COLUMBUS, March 22.—Request that he and his representatives meet with representatives of the operators and miners of the Hocking, Pomeroy, Jackson and Crooksville mining districts at the Deshler hotel here next Monday for the purpose of negotiating a wage scale and working conditions for those districts, effective April 1, next, has been turned down by Lee Hall, Columbus, president of the Ohio United Mine Workers.

Vote 6-Hour Day
CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 22.—The United Mine Workers of District 17, in convention here this morning, with a few scattering negative votes, adopted the report of the scale committee recommending a six-hour day and five-year retention of the present wage scale. A motion made by the opponents of the six-hour day to consider the report of sections was withdrawn before the vote was taken.

CINCINNATI, March 22.—"My life has been a failure," wrote George Siegel, former detective, just before he shot himself late last night. Siegel is in a serious condition and physicians say he probably will die. He is 40 years old.

DeForest Knapp Files Answer In Divorce Petition

C. DeForest Knapp has filed an answer and cross petition to the divorce proceedings recently filed by his wife, Minnie Knapp.

He charges that she is of an extremely jealous disposition and has constantly accused him with associating with other women, said accusations being absolutely false. She has also charged him with responding with other women, and of being lazy, and calling him vile names and swearing at him in private and in the hearing of others, he alleges.

Continuing he states that she has insisted on controlling and hiring of employees for his business and on his firing certain ones in his employ, thereby interfering in his business. Her actions, he states, have caused him to lose sales of stock in his business by reason of the publication of her divorce proceedings. On November 15 he charged she struck him with a table and he still bears the scar. He asks a divorce, that his alimony proceedings be dismissed and her equities in his property be severed.

IMPORTS FOR 1921 SHOW BIG INCREASES

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Last year there were $217,968,000 worth of goods imported into the United States, 9,072,336 pairs of cotton stockings, $35,115,582 yards of cotton laces and lace articles and $4,136,155 pounds of window glass.

An analysis of the reports of Mr. Hoover's department for 1920 and 1921 show the amount of our imports from Germany last year increased by more than a half billion marks. A comparison indicates that our imports of foreign manufactured goods increased in volume, although the value in American money was lower. These imports, flooding the American markets, have been directly responsible for the closing of thousands of American factories because they were unable to compete with foreign labor prices. A worker in Germany today, for instance, receives between four and five dollars a week. The million-mark-a-year directors of Krupp's receive only approximately $3,000 in U. S. currency.

The following table of dutiable general imports subject to ad valorem rates into the U. S. was selected at random from the reports of the Department of Commerce for the two years mentioned:

Cotton embroideries—Year 1920, 24,889,980 yards, value $2,501,302; average price $0.101; year 1921, 29,585,458 yards, value $1,493,342; average price .047.

Cotton laces and lace articles—1920, 220,657,981 yards, value $13,024,397; average price .059; 1921, 335,115,582 yards, value $9,567,356; average price .028.

Britain has reversed her free trade policy and today is collecting an import duty of $16.50 per capita, compared to $3.15 per capita collected in the United States, which has been considered a high protectionist country. Canada, our next door neighbor, is collecting $19.50 per capita of import duties for every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

Don't Have To Get Up Nights Anymore

Dayton Man Reports Quick Relief From Bladder Trouble That Caused Him to Get Up 15 to 20 Times Nightly.

Mr. John Lumpkins, 7 Carrie St., says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald, "For two years I had to get up 15 to 20 times each night. The scalding and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Doan's, the gravel came, until at least 25 pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."

Lithiated Doan's acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out, leaving the bladder of all abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine and frequent desire at night.

Be sure to get the Keller formula Lithiated Doan's at H. A. Cranfill's, and drug stores everywhere, or write The Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O.—Adv.

Woman Trapper Dies In Own Trap

ALGONAC, Mich., March 22.—Hours of torture in which Mrs. Joseph Sears, 72 year old trapper, struggled against a muskrat trap which held her, in two feet of mud and water, were revealed with the finding of the woman's body in the flats here. One of her own traps had snared her and a boat, from which she was bailing it, tipped over and floated away. For at least five hours the woman floundered in the icy water and mud. To extricate herself she attempted to bite off her wrist, near where the steel trap gripped her. Unable to stand upright nor lie prone, she maintained the stooping position until the cold air and icy water drove her into a frenzied fight in which she almost tore all her clothing from her back. So firm was the grip of the vise-like trap that all her struggles only forced her deeper into the mire. Her body was half submerged in mud when found. Death was due to cold and exposure, the coroner's office ruled.

O'Connor said he believed that the faction of the Irish republican army hostile to Collins would control all the barracks turned over to the Irish by the departing British forces.

It is estimated that there will be 650 delegates in the I. R. A. convention if it is held and that Eamonn DeValera will have 450 of these. The 200 supporters of Collins would probably abstain from voting.

LONDON, March 22.—A public appeal to Michael Collins and Sir James Craig to meet and reach an agreement which would avert war between the Sinn Feiners and the Ulster Orangemen was made in the house of commons this afternoon by Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill. Collins is minister of finance in the Irish provisional government at Dublin and Craig is premier of the Ulster government. Secretary Churchill warned that Great Britain would take over control of the Ulster frontier unless the hostile factions were pacified.

BELFAST, March 22.—Many republican prisoners and a large quantity of rifles were captured by the Ulster constabulary in the Sperrin mountains (county Tyrone) during the last 24 hours. The constables have been carrying out a systematic search of Sinn Fein haunts.

CINCINNATI, March 22.—Sensational developments are expected as a result of the arrest in Detroit of John Sydel, 36, of this city, who has admitted, according to arresting officers, that he was the leader of a gang of bandits who recently stole an $8,000 payroll from the Nash Tailoring Company. Three other men have been arrested and detectives are said to be seeking a person who is said to be closely related, in a business way, to officials of the company.

DAYTON, March 22.—City Manager Eichelberger concluded the city was not getting its money's worth and he issued an order requiring all clerks to punch the clock promptly at 8 a. m. instead of the customary 8:30, 9 and 9:15. It's a popular move with the public but it's— for the clerks.

STEWARTSVILLE, March 22.—This Belmont county mining town was swept by a fire which did more than $50,000 damage to the business district early today, finally being checked by use of dynamite. Impassable road prevented other towns from sending aid. Two stores, a confectionery, barber shop and pool room and three homes burned. Crossed wires are blamed.

ASSAILANTS MUTILATE "INNOCENT" CHICAGOAN

CHICAGO, March 22.—Two mysterious persons entered the home of John Silk, 46, married man, threw him on the bathroom floor and mutilated him with a jack knife.

"I know you—you are Willis—I'll teach you to ruin my daughter," one of the men cried.

The attack, strikingly similar to that of Jere Lillis by Jack Cudady in Kansas City some years ago, occurred yesterday afternoon. Silk took weak from loss of blood to rise, lay on the floor five hours, until found by his wife last evening. He was under a doctor's care today.

SARTOR RITES THURSDAY

AMERICAN WOMEN ARE CARELESS

Women are too apt to overestimate their strength and overtax it. When feeling well they take unnecessary chances, which in the long run cause much pain and trouble. Wet feet, exposure to cold, lifting heavy burdens and overwork will often develop troubles which cause no end of suffering. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing remedy in such cases. Thousands of American women will testify to this fact who have regained health and strength by its use. If you are suffering it will pay you to give it a fair trial.—Adv.

DAYTON, March 22.—Stockholders of the Miami-Texas Association are contemplating filing criminal proceedings against two men, who sold stock for the concern and are alleged to have made false and fraudulent statements regarding the presence of oil wells on the land owned by the concern. It is said stock was sold to the extent of about $75,000 by the two salesmen who now are alleged to be in the west. Charges when filed will be based on the blue sky law.

Sonora's enviable reputation has been made because it has always given the very finest of quality with the very best value.

KEEP LOOKING YOUR IF
It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Article III

On the Road to Prosperity

The time has come when the public must take a broader vision in the handling of public service questions if the cause of humanity's advancement is to be best served. Politics and prejudice must give way before REASON and JUSTICE. America is striving valiantly and effectively toward a restoration of stable prosperity. Many problems must be solved, many decisions reached and policies of grave import formulated. Eventually the American public must approve or disapprove each step taken. Will you not, Mr. Citizen, present an open mind to the problems of the Public Utility?

Some of these problems are difficult of solution, but all are understandable if Pure Reason only is courted. It is easy to lambast all public service companies in generalities, disregarding of facts, for all things that seem wrong, but that is not the road to normal prosperity. The eyes and ears and legs and arms of your city deserve more judicious consideration. Their welfare is the city's welfare. Their interests and the city's are inseparable.

The city and the utility grow side by side, the first cannot distance the second. The utility cannot develop without new capital. New capital can be attracted only when the utility shows a fair profit. In some quarters it seems to have been suspected that utility companies know no limit in their greed for increased rates. On its face and without regard to moral and ethical phases that suspicion is unjustified. Above all things else the utility dreads loss of patronage. Unreasonable rates would cause such losses. Not a public service company in America but would prefer extensive patronage at a fair rate to diminished patronage at a higher rate! The former is a healthier and sounder business condition and one more likely to attract any capital needed for improvement. The present plight of the railroads demonstrates what high rates may bring about. No indeed, the utility operator will not seek a higher rate than is actually required for development and for a fair return on capital invested according to his calculations.

At the time street car fares, for instance, were settled at five cents as the universally logical figure no one considered the possibility that the time might come when cars could not be operated profitably at that rate. Money values were accepted as permanently fixed, or nearly so. The time did come, however, when in many cities service could not be maintained for a nickel. The way had not been prepared to obtain increases. When applications for relief were made some persons were disposed to regard them as attempted raids on the public. Authorities, with the evidence before them, were inclined to be more tolerant, but in many cases relief has been slow of realization.

THE AGGREGATE OF RATE INCREASES GRANTED TO UTILITIES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR ERA STRIKES AN AVERAGE OF 55 PER CENT AS AGAINST INCREASES IN COSTS OF LABOR AND MATERIALS RANGING FROM 100 TO 213 PER CENT. These are facts. The figures were obtained from the United States department of commerce.

Agencies of government which pass upon rate changes held light, power, gas, telephone and street railway companies to rates that were admittedly too low in the belief that an early return of normal conditions would obviate necessity for change. It was not desired to create new standards of rates and thus add to the dislocation of financial conditions as the high price era was expected to pass quickly. But it did not pass quickly. A period of business depression followed the war boom WITHOUT BRINGING ABOUT GENERAL PRICE REDUCTIONS. The utilities were whip-sawed.

Current replacement and improvement expenditures were of course impossible to utilities, with their inadequate rates, throughout the war period. Material and labor costs, far out of proportion to cash receipts, drained heavily upon available funds and credits. The subsiding business boom left utilities with a heavy loss of patronage to be borne along with the high materials costs, which until the present time have only receded to about 150 per cent of normal. Now, with funds and credit sadly depleted, and equipment, in many cases, in grave need of repair and replacement, utilities generally must obtain some measure of relief. Rest assured they will ask no more than the individual operators feel convinced that they must have.

Well meaning persons who have questioned the necessity of rate increases, on the ground that the high price peak seems to have been passed, should consider these facts, and also inquire further into the matter. The public service companies have losses to recuperate as well as service to maintain and equipment to replace and improve. It is a vital case and the public policy should be arrived at without prejudice or favor. This, too, should be remembered—THE WELFARE OF THE UTILITIES WHICH SERVE IT PARALLELS THE WELFARE OF THE CITY. INDEED, YOU SHOULD CONSIDER THE HEALTH AS WELL AS THE MORALS OF YOUR PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANIES!

Statements and conclusions contained in the preparation of these articles result from an exhaustive nationwide survey of conditions in the public service field and are not intended to be specifically descriptive of conditions in any particular city nor to reflect in detail the views of any particular utility company.

Interest is increasing with regard to the basketball tie in the interclass league that is to be played off that evening. The Frosh have confidence in the prowess of their basket tossers, while the Seniors feel certain of their ability to capture the honors.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR HIGH TRACKERS

OBERLIN, March 22.—Prospects are bright for a good track team at Oberlin this year, this coming season. Three letter men are back and are men of ability. They are Thomas Fitzgerald, and Kreuger. Thomas is the speed king of the O. H. S. He runs the 100 and 220 yard dashes and there are few men in the league who can come near him. He intends also entering the shot put and broad jump.

Fitzgerald was elected captain of this year's track team. He does the pole vaulting and high jumping. He won second place in the pole vault in the Little Big Seven last year and this season his friends believe he will take first place.

Kreuger is the distance runner and is one of the best of the high school has had in years. He runs both mile and half-mile races. Kreuger is booked to walk off with first place in the league meet.

Several other men will be out competing for honors on the track and field. Richardson will probably throw the javelin and enter the broad jump. He was second to Channon in the inter-class track meet last year but was ineligible for the regular meets. Gayters will be out for the shot put and will enter the half-mile race. He is one of the biggest men in O. H. S. and ought to be able to heave the shot put about 40 feet. Locke will probably come out for the dashes.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

HE INTENDS TO MASCOT DODGERS TO THE PENNANT

Dan Comerford coaching one of the rookie hurlers.

Three-year-old Dan Comerford, son of the Brooklyn Dodgers' trainer, can't see any team but the Dodgers in the National league race this year. "If I can get these pitchers in shape," chirps Dan, "we'll be set for McGraw."

He has much speed on the baseball court and ought to make a good dash man.

Several good meets have been scheduled besides the annual Little Big Seven meet held here on June 3rd. The N. O. A. I. meet will be held at Lakewood, May 20. This is similar to a basketball tournament and several big schools will enter this meet. In years before it has been held at Alliance.

SPORT FLASHES

DALLAS, Texas, March 22.—Allan Sotheron and Guy Morton are both likely to pitch in the two game series with Kansas City American association club which is on the schedule for the Cleveland Indians today and tomorrow. Neither has started thus far this season. Ray Caldwell, former Indian, hopes to pitch a shutout game against his old buddies.

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, Mar. 22.—Pat Moran's colts and veterans will clash in an exhibition game at Weatherford Thursday. Many promising players are included in the colt lineup and conservers here say they will give the veterans a run for their money. Midsummer weather has struck the training camp here and the Cincinnati manager is taking full advantage of the heat in working all the kinks out of his men.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Mar. 22.—Carl Mays showed form in the five innings he worked for the New York Yankees against the New Orleans Pelicans yesterday, allowing three hits and one run. The score was 12 to 1. Babe Ruth got two hits, a double and a triple.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 22.—A new pitcher, said to be a second class pitcher, because of his underhand delivery, is working out with the Giants. He is 18 years of age, weighs 175 pounds and goes by the name of Zidler. Recently he pitched a no run, no hit game for West Texas Military Academy. He will not sign with the Giants this year as he wants to complete his school work.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 22.—Harry Shriver, a rookie right hander, took the glory for yesterday's third straight victory of the Brooklyn Dodgers over the Louisville Colonels. All he did was shut out the colonels in the three final innings he pitched and slung out a triple with the bases loaded in the ninth.

SEGUIN, Tex., March 22.—Several of the "second Babe Ruths" and "Junior Walter Johnsons" who "looked good" the first day in camp, are due to depart from the White Sox entourage tomorrow. At least eight men are expected to be picked loose from the Comiskey payroll. Some will be sent to the minor league teams and others released entirely.

CATLINA ISLANDS, Cal., Mar. 22.—Bill Killifer, boss of the Bruins, is still scouting for a second baseman. There were reports in camp today that Killifer has a deal on for a minor league star whose identity is a secret. Joe Klugmann and Barney Friberg, who have been tried at the bat, have not lived up to Killifer's expectations.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Mar. 22.—Pittsburg braves continue to show a tremendous fighting strength in their practice games but the pitching department has not yet going in a favorable way. Every pitcher up is batted all over the lot for 2 and 3 baggers and holding runs. The Yankees beat the regulars 14 to 5 Tuesday.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adele Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The News That Dicky Brought to Madge.

Did you find her?"

I sprang up from my easy chair in the sitting-room of the hotel where Adele and Dicky were waiting. To me, chafing under the inaction which my black eye and discolored forehead had imposed upon me, the hours intervening since Dicky's departure, search of Adele's present whereabouts had seemed an eternity.

Constantly before my eyes was the vision of Lillian contending with the combination of a mother-in-law's broken arm, the oscillation of Mrs. Tucker's methods of housekeeping—Mother Graham outspokenly disapproved—and the care of Junior, the while her own work loomed mountain-like in the background. I had expected to be gone but a few hours, overnight at the most, and that Dicky would be at Lillian's right hand during my absence. But my bizarre accident had delayed my errand almost twenty-four hours, and had brought Dicky to my side. Every nerve was tingling as I awaited the answer to Dicky's question.

Dicky grinned tantalizingly, and puffed his chest out and thumped it approvingly.

"Behold the man who should have taken the message to Garcia if he had been out of the cradle at the time," he said. "Yes, I have found our missing handmaid, that is, I have discovered where she is at the present moment, and will be for the next two or three hours at least."

"Where?" I sprang up with the tense monosyllable, snatched up my hat, and moved toward the bedroom and the mirror.

"In a cheap restaurant in Brooklyn, near the Long Island station, where she is cooking. I believe. What's the big idea of the quick costume change?"

"Have it Your Own Way."

"Because," I said, adjusting my heavy veil so that it fell over my face, "if we hurry, we may be able to catch that 4 o'clock train back home. We ought not to be away from Mother and Junior another night."

"Granted," Dicky replied with mad-dening unshining imperturbability. "But that's no reason why we shouldn't lunch comfortably here. We'll have plenty of time."

"Dicky!" All the exasperation which his attitude justly demanded was in my tone. "You know better than that! Plenty of time, indeed! When nobody knows where Katie's things are, and how long it will take her to get ready, or—anything," I finished lamely.
